ONLY A CHIGNON Malla Times September 16.) Among the last acts of the country robbers, in Malta, we may mention one of a new type against which ladies, returning from an after moon's drive, even to Sliems, will do well to be on their guard. An Anglo-Maltose lady who may perhaps have been selected from her name indicating " wealth," returning with her busband and children from a piquic at St. Paul's will leave for the above places at 11 A.M. TO. Bry, one Sunday evening hite y, was surprised, DAY, the 11th inst. whilst reclining in an open carriage by a clumey attempt at smitching of her ear-rings, and, on looking round, detected, scampering away over a wall, a native youngeter, who had stealthily jumped up behind the vehicle as it drave briskly slong the road, but who seems to have failed in securing a firm fonting as he did in corrying off the ornaments be aimed at; fortunately the extent of the loss to the lady was only a "chig- Copt. H. de Smidt, will loave for the non," now almost a discarded ornament.
